

Conference theater

Convey lasting subjects with humour.

Whether as an energetic start, a loosening interim result or as the grand finale. We attend your conference and provide it with a special touch.

As kick-off we introduce the participants to the contents of the event by a spontaneous piece of improvisational theater, thus providing a limbered-up and lively atmosphere. The scenes of the play are inspired by the setting of your event and the impulses of the audience.

Furthermore we take part in your convention, take in the events of the day and convert them to spontaneously created scenes and stories, which provide a summary of the conference from a witty and totally different point of view.

Our service / your benefit:

- Diverting attunement to the issues of your conference.
- Lively theatrical reflection of the events in between or as the grand finale.
- Loosening up, creation of an animated atmosphere.
- Gaining new perspectives towards the issues of the conference.
- The subjects of the day will be kept in good memory for a long time.
- Accompanying music.
